cost. As a result, each city's share must be increased by $4,000.

Councilmen appropriated the $4,000 and concurred in the decision of Redondo Beach to award the contract. J. W. Nicks Construction Co. submitted the low bid.

Miss Torrance Contest Deadline Is Saturday

Aspirants for the title of Miss Torrance have until Saturday, to file entries with the Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Selection of the 1969 Miss Torrance will be made Friday, April 5. The candidates will be judged on the basis of talent, beauty, and personality.

Competition is limited to single residents of the Torrance area who have never been married, divorced, or had a marriage annulled. Participation is open to women who will be between 18 and 28 years of age next Sept. 1.

The title winner will spend an active, interesting year as the representative of the city. Duties will include appearances at municipal and Chamber of Commerce functions and various public events.

The winner will be crowned by the present Miss California and past Miss Torrance, Sharon Kay Ferrill, at ceremonies during the pageant at Torrance High School auditorium.

The winner will also have an opportunity to compete in the Miss California Pageant at Santa Cruz.

delinquent in the payment of city inspection fees.

On the second extension, Ferraro stated that he was aware the work on the sump was slow, but was not informed by Nollac that inspection fees were outstanding.

Defense attorney Walter Young injected that the testimony concerning fees was immaterial because it was the duty of the finance director to collect. His objection was overruled by Chairman Larry Bowman.

REGARDING THE third extension request, prosecuting attorney Walter Anderson asked Ferraro if he was advised by Nollac that the subcontractor was attempting to collect on the bond posted by the contractor. Ferraro said the information had not been included in the recommendation from Nollac.

Ferraro also testified that he was unaware of a recommendation to Nollac from Assistant City Engineer John Rempert advising that no further occupancy be granted for the tract.

ATTORNEY YOUNG began his cross-examination by asking Ferraro what he would have done if these facts had been at his fingertips. Ferraro answered that he would have recommended a denial of the request to the City Council for all three extensions.

Young then asked Ferraro what his next step would have been in dealing with the situation. The city manager answered that he would have needed legal help to decide, but that in his opinion the bond which the city was holding would have been forfeited. He also said the city doesn't have a definite procedure to follow if a request for an extension is denied.

Ferraro testified that Nollac was aware of the overdue inspection fees because the city finance director is charged with sending him quarterly statements.

ANDERSON TOLD the commission that he would be able to complete his presentation within five minutes at the next session, leaving defense attorney Young free to present his side of the issue.

The next session will be held Saturday from 9:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. The commission hopes to complete testimony before April 1 because Young is leaving for a trip to Mexico.

Remelmeyer Recovery Is Satisfactory

City Attorney Stan Remelmeyer is in satisfactory condition at Good Samaritan Hospital following surgery Friday to "reconstruct" his chest area. Remelmeyer said yesterday that he "feels pretty good" and that the operation was a success.

The patient will be in the hospital four or five more days, and will rest at home for another 10 days before returning to work.

An improper development of Remelmeyer's chest area was causing pressure on his heart and lungs. The operation, which involved detaching and replacing Remelmeyer's ribs, alleviated the condition.
